It was the intention of the Editor of this volume to have appended to it some remarks upon the peculiarities of the Saxon and early English dialects in which the respective versions are written; and to have added a verbal index applicable to the whole work. Circumstances however have prevented the adoption of this plan.

Saxon and Early English Psalters.

PSALM C.

1. [1] Merci and dome [2] with-alle,
Laverd, to þe singe [3] I salle.

[4] I sal salme (2.) and understand in un-wemmid wai,
When þou salte come to me ai.
I thorgh-yhode in un-derandnesse of mi herte,
In mid of mi hous in querte.

3. [5] Noght set I to be in sighte
Bifore mine eghen thinge un-righte;
Wemmednesses ere doand,
Hated I in ilka land.

Noght kleved to me (4.) wicke hert for-þi;
[6] Heldeand fra me liþer noght knew I.

5. [7] Dern-like his neghburgh bak-bitand,
Him filiyhed I with fote and hand.
With proude egh and [8] un-fillandlike hert,
With [9] it ete I noght in quert.

6. Min eghen to trew of land þat be,
Swa þat þai ai site with me;
[10] Gaand in un-wemmid wai,
He served me, night and dai.

7. Noghte sal he won me biside,
In mid of mi hous, þat does pride;
þat spekes quednes, noght righted swa
In sighte of min eghen twa.

8. In [11] ughteninge I slogh with hand
Alle þe sinful of þe land;
þat I [12] for-spille fra Goddes cite
Alle þat wickenes wirkand be.
